

YOU NEVER LOVED ME AT ALL

Where did they go, those things we did
How could they just go off the grid
Did they happen, will they live forever
Inside a memory, where we're together

I hold my breath but to what use

So silent I can hear you blinking
Already know what you are thinking
You've had enough and now you're breaking up
There's nothing I can do to make it stop

Will you be honest or will you be lying
And why the hell are you the one crying
I fucking hate that muffled sound
Like something breathing underground

I hold my breath but to what use
We both know I'm the one who'll loose
I know it's over
Your silence chokes me like a noose
I know it's over
I tried so hard but you refused

You never loved me at all
No never
Not even for one day
You never loved me at all
Forget her
And now you're running away
You never loved me at all
No never
Bring on the clichès
You never loved me at all
No never
So why the fuck did you stay

The silence seems to take forever
That stupid pause won't make it better
How can you fucking take so long
Just get it over with and I'll be gone

For some reason you look scared
So when your words come, well prepared
It's like sun breaking through the fog
Putting me down like a rabid dog

I hold my breath but to what use
You never loved me at all
No never
Not even for one day
You never loved me at all
Forget her
And now you're running away
You never loved me at all
No never
Bring on the clichès
You never loved me at all
No never
So why the fuck did you stay
