

ARE YOU WITH HIM NOW

Are you with him now
Are you with him right now
Are you with him now
Are you always with him

All my memories of us
Are they something I can trust
Cause none of them are bad
I'm still missing what we had

We lost a future, that had only just begun
And now you're making a new one...with him

I guess everything's on loan
If your heart was not a home
And it was not about romance
I never stood a chance
I wish I could have known

So we lost a future, that had only just begun
And now you're making a new one

Are you with him now
Are you with him right now
Are you with him now
Are you always with him

I know you found it strange
That I never wanted change
But from my point of view
We were perfect me and you

We lost a future, that had only just begun
And now you're making a new one

Are you with him now
Are you with him right now
Are you with him now
Are you always with him

Do you know that I would have done everything you told me to
Do you know that all I ever wanted was a future too
Do you understand that I would come back if you wanted to
Do you understand it. Do you understand it

Are you with him now
Are you always with him
