

TRIED TO BORROW SOME COLOURS OFF YOUR RAINBOW

Music: Schau

Lyrics: Schau

The time we had felt like a trapdoor
Bound to go away beneath me
As Hank sang "It don't hurt anymore"
It sure didn't hurt any less either

Nothing left to win
And I knew the joke was over
But when did it begin

Tried to borrow some colors off your rainbow
When I had nothing left in mine
But like sand in the hourglass our days were Pulverized, imprisoned time

And I knew the joke was over
But when did it begin

Like the quiet between my parents
After a fight they both managed to lose
What hurt was not so much the beating
But knowing there would be a bruise

And I knew the joke was over
But when did it begin
